THURSDAY, OCT. 15, 1896.

The Courier-Journal, of Louisville, Ky., which has been as industrious a Yellow Jacket paper as any and has said many hard things of the Chicago platform and its nominee, now says:

"From now on until the end of the campaign and beyond, let the war of discussion be conducted with all civilized regard for the amenities of private life." Why the necessity for change. Good politics are always on that line, and abuse is not argument. Has the Journal a regard to its subscription list now?

For once we can say we have seen an editorial page at whose sentiment no one could cavil. In these troublous political times this is remarkable. We refer to the Nashville American which reached us one day last week in all the purity of immaculate white as regards an editorial page.

We want the people of this place to keep up their interest in the road up the mountain which must surely be made this fall. Get the excitement of the election over, which is only three weeks ahead and then we hope to know something. It is of so much importance for the people of this place that it must not be let drop.

H. CLAY EVANS claims that the present financial trouble is due to overproduction and want of confidence in the people by the business men. Evans is either preaching a doctrine which he knows is untrue, or else is a candidate for the State lunatic asylum. If so, buy him a strait waist coat.

A traveling man says that the statement of the Courier-Journal that the drummers of the country were united against Bryan is an infamous lie. This is not the first time the Courier-Journal has become closely related to Ananias.

JUDGE MOON's speech at Jasper Saturday was that of an eminent jurist. No slang of any kind marred his sentences, but everything was massive and powerful as proceeding from an important position.

BUSINESS is surely though slowly improving. Although crops are not so large as desired, everybody has something ahead and needed STRENGTH. If we

THE candidate now sings "we'll be all smiles to-night," but he does not remember that in a little while half of the genius candidate will be all groans instead of smiles.

REPUBLICAN leaders are beginning to feel disappointed. That which was once a land slide in their favor, now looks as if it were going the other way.

Candidate for Senator.

The Democratic candidate for Senator, Mr. J. H. Gunn, of Pelham, Grundy Co., called on the News Friday morning early. Mr. Gunn is a farmer and has lived continuously in Grundy County. He has been for twenty years a member of the county court and although when he was first elected that county was bankrupt, he with the assistance of others by retrenchment and reform, got the County of Grundy out of debt which honorable position it holds to-day. He has served his County in many offices, was the representative in the General Assembly of 1891, when this county was included in the Floterial District, and introduced the bill creating the office of County Judge for Marion County.

Mr. Gunn realizes that much reform is needed and if elected will try to represent all the people of the district.

A Chance to Make Money.

I have made $1,640 clear money in 87 days and attended to my household duties besides, and I think this is doing splendid for a woman inexperienced in business. Anyone can sell what everyone wants to buy, and every family wants a Dish Washer. I don't canvass at all; people come or send for the washer, and every washer that goes out sells two or three more, as they do the work to perfection. You can wash and dry the dishes in two minutes. I am going to devote my whole time to this business now and I am sure I can clear $5,000 a year. My sister and brother have started in the business and are doing splendid. You can get complete instructions and hundreds of testimonials by addressing the Iron City Dish Washer Co., Station A; Pittsburg, Pa., and if you don't make lots of money it's your own fault.

A WARNING DREAM.

THE OTHER night after being lulled to slumber by the melodious tinkle of a hundred cow bells and the sweet yet soft symphony of a hound pup that was pouring forth his soul in a serenade to the moon, I had a most vivid and unpleasant dream. I thought I strayed into the church-yard and there plainly carved upon a rough stone slab, I saw my own name. Beneath it in rude letters was the following inscription:

"Pause, stranger, pause and drop a tear,
He trusted all creation,
And now, poor man, he slumbers here,
A victim of starvation."

I awoke, bathed in cold perspiration, and murmured fervently to myself, "Thank Heaven, 'twas but a dream!"

But my dream awakened a train of thought, which has resulted in a change of business methods. I find that some of my competitors have been underselling me for the reason that they Jasper.

The burning question in town now is how much heavier can Mr. Simpson get his fat hog. 600 pounds is not bad; much better than a razor-back.

Miss Maggie Lancaster enjoyed her visit to Ohio so much that she hardly wanted to come back to Tennessee.

Col. Spears' improvements to his house on Spring St., are nearing completion, Russ Pryor being now engaged putting on the finishing touches. We know Russ to be an artist in his line and what he does is done on honor. Now Col. Spears has set the pace we wish every one in Jasper could bring their places up in line, abolish the 6-foot fences, and make the place beautiful.

The attendance of the public school at Sam Houston Academy is good. Miss Francis' school is phenomenal. An average of 98 per cent. of enrollment shows that that the little ones are anxious to learn and their constant attendance is a hopeful sign. Miss Mid-die Beene was in charge as principal in the absence of Mr. Gilliam. Wednesday last, and she acquitted herself well. Mr. Allen, the 3rd assistant strikes us as a born pedagogue. We hope the new windows for the building will soon be placed in position.
